

Recommended Historical Fiction

Students, soldiers, and storytellers who could have been part of our past. Some are armed with cooking spoons while others have chemistry kits, diaries, and dreams. Everyone has a story to tell.

Created by Esther Rosenfeld

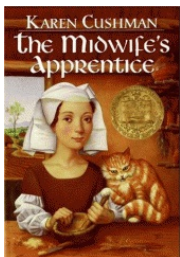

The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society

Mary Ann Shaffer & Annie Barrows.

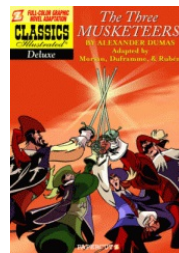

The red umbrella

Christina Diaz Gonzalez.

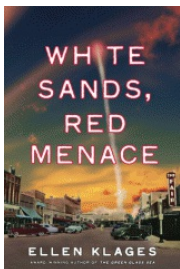

The midwife's apprentice

by Karen Cushman.

The three Musketeers

Alexandre Dumas ; adapted by Jean David Morvan, Michel Dufranne, Rubááen, and Marie Galopin.

White sands, red menace

Ellen Klages.

The green glass sea

Ellen Klages.

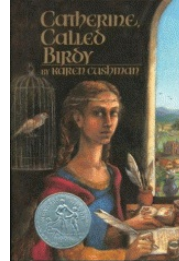

Recommended Historical Fiction

Students, soldiers, and storytellers who could have been part of our past. Some are armed with cooking spoons while others have chemistry kits, diaries, and dreams. Everyone has a story to tell.

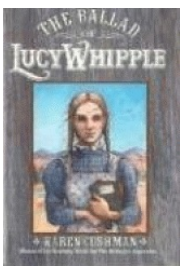

Created by EstherRosenfeld

Matilda Bone
by Karen Cushman.

Catherine, called Birdy
by Karen Cushman.

The ballad of Lucy Whipple
by Karen Cushman.

Turtle in paradise
by Jennifer L. Holm.

My chocolate year
by Charlotte Herman ; illustrated by LeUyen Pham.

Penny from heaven
by Jennifer L. Holm.